[link] Tarnished BY DizzyZP Behold the game that used to be an iPhone game is now a full desktop version of the same game, and it's beautiful, just beautiful! Build a world To begin, you are given a choice of going into the World Building mode or the Character Create Mode. I recommend starting out with the World Building mode as you can draw a nice 3D picture of your starting area, and add a few things like grass, grass blades, a house, a road, and a few trees and buildings that will help you in later events. The area you draw for your starting area is your island, and you can decide what kind of terrain you will have, like water, grass, mountains, forests, etc. Selecting the World Building Mode I recommend placing your Island on the top, and then the rest of your map will appear with a distance of around 1000 units above the top of your map. Just make sure your Island isn't high enough for other islands to pass through while you are building it. Your starting island is where you will begin building your city. Selecting one of the three buildings that will be used to build your city. The building is quite simple, with three left, center, and right parts. The right part contains the town hall, where all the villagers will come to be and your items will be accumulated. Your town hall will be used to make Decoration, Magic, and Item Locks. The middle part contains Storage Slots, where items can be put for storage, and Income, it's money (this isn't as important in the end game). The left part has Gold, Market, Workers' Place, Town's Inn, and an armory. Selecting the first of the three buildings of your city that you wish to build: the Town Hall. Selecting and selecting the desired building. "You cannot use any of the building parts until it is finished!" Anyway, after you've built your island, you will be directed to the Character Create Mode. Selecting the Character Create Mode In the Character Create Mode, you will be able to make a character with a choice of Male or Female. You'll also be able to select the species of the character you are creating, and then you will be shown a list of three superpowers your character will start bff6bb2d33
